GINKGO BILOBA LEAF EXTRACT

This ancient herb enhances oxygen utilization in the brain, improving concentration and memory. It's a brain regulator: it helps blood flow to the brain, delivering that oxygen, which in turn helps to banish brain fog, depression and anxiety.

YERBA MATE

A botanical that is not only packed with antioxidants that help your body destroy nasty free radicals, it's also packed with nutrients, natural caffeine, and has been known to have a euphoric effect on your mood. Which everyone could use first thing in the morning.

SIBERIAN GINKO

This herb is essential for maintaining good health and stimulating your body's ability to resist stress. Regular use has been shown to improve memory and enhance energy. All combined, these benefits work hard to keep you relaxed throughout your day.

GUARANA

A natural appetite suppressant that doesn't leave you feeling nauseous. It increases your metabolism and energy. Getting you feeling awake and peppy.

GREEN TEA

Used in medicine for centuries, green tea has powerful antioxidants that help regulate mood and serotonin levels, which help you fall asleep easier and sleep more peacefully. It helps fight off inflammation, and the caffeine improves mood, energy, and brainpower.

ELECTROLYTES

These regulate your enzymes, helping with energy production, nervous system function, and balancing brain chemicals. They positively charge your mood, energy, and mental clarity.

HYDRATION!

Water and hydration are a critical part of your general health and well being. When you wake up you've gone without water for eight hours. Drinking water, with essential nutrients in it, first thing in the morning will not only hydrate you and lubricate your system, but your body will quickly soak up those nutrients, utilizing them as quickly as you can make breakfast.
